A SHIPPER'S RESOURCE

Marine Cargo Insurance Readiness Checklist

12 things to confirm before you book your next shipment, so nothing slips at the border.

Why Assumed Coverage Costs You

Many shippers rely on carrier liability limits and discover the gap only when a claim is filed. Mills Insurance arranges cover through licensed insurance partners, alongside Mills Logistics and Mills Customs, so protection is settled before the cargo moves.

Work through each point before you book. If you cannot tick a box, that is the item to resolve first.

The Readiness Checklist

- [ ] 1. The cargo value is established
  Confirm the value to insure, including freight and other costs you would need to recover if the cargo were lost or damaged.

- [ ] 2. Carrier liability limits are understood
  Check what the carrier would actually pay in a loss, and compare that with the value of your cargo.

- [ ] 3. Transport modes and route are confirmed
  List every leg, whether sea, air, road or a combination, so the cover follows the cargo from start to finish.

- [ ] 4. The scope of cover is chosen
  Decide which risks you want covered, and read the exclusions so there are no surprises at claim time.

- [ ] 5. Warehouse-to-warehouse needs are checked
  Confirm whether cover should include loading, storage and inland movement, not only the main voyage or flight.

- [ ] 6. Project and high-value cargo are assessed
  Flag heavy equipment, breakbulk and fragile cargo early, since they may need specific terms.

- [ ] 7. Single shipment or annual policy is decided
  Compare insuring each shipment with a policy covering regular shipments, based on how often you ship.

- [ ] 8. Shipping terms are clarified
  Confirm who is responsible for arranging insurance under your sales terms, and when risk passes from seller to buyer.

- [ ] 9. Shipment declarations are prepared
  Make sure the details declared for cover match the invoice and the bill of lading or air waybill.

- [ ] 10. Packing and handling risks are reviewed
  Look at how the cargo is packed and handled, and fix weak points before they become the reason for a claim.

- [ ] 11. Claims documents are known
  Know what to photograph, who to notify and what to keep if damage is found, and keep within the policy's notice period.

- [ ] 12. Policy terms are confirmed in writing
  Read the policy wording, deductibles and exclusions before shipping. Cover remains subject to underwriting, policy terms and exclusions.
