A SHIPPER'S RESOURCE

Import Permit and Product Registration Checklist

12 things to confirm before you book your next shipment, so nothing slips at the border.

Why Missing Approvals Cost You

Regulated goods sit at the port when a permit, license or product registration was not mapped before shipping. Mills Permits identifies what applies to your product, working with Mills Customs and Mills Advisory so approvals are ready when the cargo is.

Work through each point before you book. If you cannot tick a box, that is the item to resolve first.

The Readiness Checklist

- [ ] 1. Your product list is complete and classified
  List every product with a clear description and an agreed tariff classification, since permits depend on both.

- [ ] 2. Permits are mapped product by product
  For each product, identify which agencies regulate it and what each one requires before shipment.

- [ ] 3. FDA coordination is confirmed where it applies
  Confirm whether your product falls under FDA oversight, and what license or registration is needed.

- [ ] 4. BIR requirements are checked
  Confirm whether an ATRIG or other BIR clearance applies to your goods, and when it must be in place.

- [ ] 5. Agricultural requirements are identified
  For plant, animal or food products, confirm the sanitary and phytosanitary requirements and who issues them.

- [ ] 6. Standards and certification are checked
  Confirm whether your product needs standards certification before it can be imported or sold.

- [ ] 7. Telecommunications and optical media rules are reviewed
  For radio equipment, wireless devices or optical media, confirm whether a permit or approval applies.

- [ ] 8. Environmental, chemical and controlled-goods rules are reviewed
  For chemicals and controlled materials, confirm the registration or clearance needed and who grants it.

- [ ] 9. Specialized requirements are identified
  Check for any product-specific rule that sits outside the common agencies, and who handles it.

The Readiness Checklist (continued)

- ☐ 10. Applications are complete and consistent
  Make sure names, descriptions and quantities are the same on every application and on the shipping documents.

- ☐ 11. Validity and timing are confirmed
  Confirm that each approval covers this shipment's quantity and dates, and that it will be valid on arrival.

- ☐ 12. Renewals and amendments are tracked
  Keep a list of permit expiry dates and the steps for amending an approval, with an owner for each.
